Second TERM ENGLISH EXAM

Timing : 02h00

Ethics is the set of moral rules that the professionals in any field are expected to respect when they deal either with each other or with the public. In business, ethics represents the attitudes that individuals and firms should comply within the actions they perform and the decisions they take at every of their realizations.

In societies where both political and cultural conditions exist for making everyone obey this practice, the main principles engaged in the economic branches should involve a good number of the qualities that have always served as the basis of civilisation . Among them we find the obligation to be honest and lawful in one's activities. it is also essential to act in conformity with the spirit of fair competition.

Next to these aspects, ethics requires from the various members and groups of economic sectors the payment of one's taxes and the necessity to treat one's employees with fairness.

To sum up, the moral values in use in modern societies necessitate from businessmen and companies alike a strict observance of the different precepts on which the efficiency and the prosperity of the whole community depends. As economy has become a system of interdependent structures, any mistake or wrongdoing involved in it disturbs its balance and penalizes its functioning. That's why misbehaviours get punished severely.
