SECTION ONE : READING COMPREHENSION

(8 points)

Shaping the News

Answer the following questions according to the text.

1. Why is the news a most perishable product? (2)
— It does not last long; old news is no news. It becomes obsolete, 'throwable' very quickly.
2. After getting the information, what actions can people undertake? (2)
— They can be incited to follow a fashion, vote one way or another, act in a given way, attend meetings. They are informed and can choose a course of action.
3. Are journalists always accurate? Why or why not? (2)
— No. Because of time pressure (they have to work at great speed), and also because access to information is not always easy.
4. Do all news sources tell the truth? (2)
— No. It is not always easy for them to check the truth of what they write and some have a definite political line to follow.
